

Canungra Winery - is this really winter?

As we settled in Ray read the sermon

A small contingent of Audi enthusiasts converged on the Vintage Restaurant at O'Reilly's - Canungra Winery. Members travelled from both Brisbane and the Gold Coast.

It was the middle of July and who would have thought this was WINTER? The sky was cloudless (well, nearly cloudless), the temperature was balmy and there was not a breath of breeze.

Just perfect weather for a brisk country drive and a leisurely lunch. And if you were not a designated driver, a glass or two of the Picnic Range or the Platypus Range wine.

The Vintage Restaurant was in a beautiful historic homestead

Smiles all round - meals were excellent

A live jazz band playing from the rotunda provided some entertainment for diners.

The meals were not all that long coming from the chef. The most popular entree was tiger prawns with sun dried tomatoes while the barramundi and steak were nearly the exclusive mains chosen.

Everybody was enjoying the lunch
